'Til no one's turned away.

SMART MEALS works to fight hunger for individuals and families living with the daily challenges of HIV/AIDS by providing nutritious, well-balanced meals (add lunch and dinner hours here). Meals are served "family style" in a comfortable and supportive environment at the Albany Damien Center.

In 2007, the Albany Damien Center provided 15,000 meals and the need is projected to grow to over 20,000 meals in 2008. Since the Albany Damien Center receives no federal or state funds, the programs relies solely on fund raisers, grants and donations.

SMART MEALS is funded with the help from the United Way of the Greater Capital Region, the Northeast Regional Food Bank, Price Chopper Supermarkets and the fund raising efforts of Norman Rea.
